CAMPUS RECREATION (CRWC) CLIMBING WALL CLOSURE

Houston, June 1, 2011 – As part of the S-STAR initiative and centralization of facilities, a preliminary review of Campus Recreation and its current facility condition was completed in mid-May. During this review, new management discovered programmatic deficiencies with the maintenance program of various areas within the facility, including the climbing wall. The wall was closed on May 12th and will be closed until a complete engineering assessment, associated repairs and commissioning can take place. The University is working diligently to minimize the closure, while ensuring safety and ongoing program compliance and anticipates the wall will be open by mid-July.

Over 30 additional projects are underway to return the facility to its intended condition in support of the students and the university’s Tier One mission.

For questions about the closure, please contact:
