Professional service or consulting contracts are defined as those that meet the qualifications set forth in the Professional Services Procurement Act (Texas Government Code, Section 2254). These services are defined as:

“Professional Services” are those services directly related to the professional practices such as accounting, architecture, landscape architecture, land surveying, medicine, optometry, professional engineering, real estate appraisal, or professional nursing. Services provided by professionals outside the scope of their profession, e.g., management consulting services provided by accounting firms, are not considered professional services for the purposes of this policy.

“Consulting Service” is the practice of studying and advising a state agency in a manner not involving the traditional employee/employer relationship. To “study” means to consider some aspect of the agency in detail. To “advise” means to provide a recommendation or identify options with respect to some course of action. Generally, a true “consultant” delivers information or provides assistance that enables the state agency to take some course of action. When a contract involves a mix of deliverables, it is considered a consulting contract only when consulting services, as defined above, are the primary objective of the contract.
