“Strategies for Embedding Community Partnered Digital Humanities in the Classroom”

A pedagogy workshop luncheon addressing faculty needs when pursuing community partnerships, digital humanities projects, and integrating those projects into courses.

Agnes Arnold Hall, Room 210
Thursday, October 17 | 11:30 AM – 1:00 PM

Amy E. Earhart is Associate Professor of English at Texas A&M University. Earhart's work focuses on building infrastructure for digital humanities (DH) work, embedding digital humanities projects within the classroom, and tracing the history and futures of DH, with a particular interest in the way that DH and critical race studies intersect. Earhart's projects include The Millican Massacre, 1868, DIBB: The Digital Black Bibliographic Project, and “Alex Haley’s Malcolm X: The Malcolm X I knew” and notecards from The Autobiography of Malcolm X.

- Please RSVP for the luncheon to Wes Jackson: wtjacks2@central.uh.edu BY FRIDAY, OCTOBER 11TH
