

Wondering about Graduate Study in Psychology?

Join us for
"Stepping into Graduate School in Psychology"

Diversifying the pool of scholars and professionals in psychology has important benefits for science, practice, and policy.

Stepping into Graduate School in Psychology is a departmental informational event aimed at advancing the field by introducing a new, diverse generation of students to the range of opportunities for graduate study in psychology.

Freshmen, sophomores, juniors, seniors, and post-baccalaureate students with a curiosity about or interest in applying to graduate school are welcome.

You will learn about the various degrees and career paths in psychology, receive guidance in developing a graduate school application, learn about financial support and scholarships, and talk with UH faculty.

WHEN: Friday, March 22, 2019, 1-4 PM
