EXPERIENCE CUBA OVER SPRING BREAK 2015!

Sign up for SPAN 4397: Editing and Publishing in Cuba and USA

A component of this course will be a one week, hands-on workshop in Matanzas, Cuba

COURSE OVERVIEW

• Taught in Spanish
• 4pm-5:30pm, Tuesdays & Thursdays
• Includes lectures on editing various publications and literary genres and a weekly workshop
• An interdisciplinary, international, research-intensive class that focuses on the culture and publishing in Matanzas, Cuba and Houston, TX
• Taught by a literary scholar and guest editors
• Includes a one week, hands-on publishing workshop in Cuba over Spring Break to reinforce Spanish language skills and serve as a highlight of the course

Scholarship funds of $750 are available through UH Learning Abroad for program participants. Go to www.uh.edu/learningabroad and apply by December 19th.

Students in the course will also receive a $250 fee waiver credited to their PeopleSoft accounts at the end of the spring semester.

For more info, contact:

Dr. Mabel Cuesta
Assistant Professor
US Latino and Caribbean Literature
Department of Hispanic Studies
College of Liberal and Social Sciences
Email: mcuesta@uh.edu