

Rogene Calvert

President
The Asian Chamber of Commerce

Rogene Gee Calvert, a native Houstonian of Chinese descent, graduated from the University of Texas at Austin with a Bachelor of Arts degree in political science. Upon completion of her degree, she became heavily involved in the non-profit arena for almost three decades. In addition to this endeavor, Rogene volunteers as well as sits on a number of commissions and boards that deals with issues that are important to her such as children and families, Houston's Asian American Community, diversity, and coalition building.

On August 5, 2009, the Asian Chamber of Commerce, Houston, Texas, named Rogene Gee Calvert as its new president. Prior to joining the Asian Chamber of Commerce, Rogene served in Mayor Bill White's administration as Director of Personnel and Volunteer Initiatives Program. Her responsibilities included recruitment and placement of senior personnel during the transition to a new Administration. She also headed up the development of the Mayor's initiative to bring volunteers into city government.

Rogene is married with two children, Evan and Lindsay, both graduates of Trinity University in San Antonio. In her spare time, she enjoys entertaining her family and friends and watching movies.

Read more about Rogene at: <http://www.asianchamber-hou.org/index.php>