Social Work Tenure-Track

The Department of Social Work at California State University, Fullerton (CSUF) invites applications for a tenure-track assistant professor position, with a start date of August 2014. The Department offers a Master's Degree in Social Work, with concentrations in Child Welfare and Community Mental Health. For additional information, see <http://hhd.fullerton.edu/MSW>. CSUF is located in the heart of ethnically and culturally diverse Orange County of Southern California and provides ample opportunities to work with students and professionals of diverse backgrounds. CSUF is an equal opportunity employer. We strongly encourage women and people of color to apply.

We seek candidates with expertise in the areas of aging policy and practice, intergenerational family systems, or child welfare policy and practice. Successful candidates must demonstrate excellence in teaching and research and a strong commitment to educating a diverse student population. Primary responsibilities for the position include teaching graduate courses, developing an independent program of research, and providing professional and community service.

Minimum Qualifications

- A PhD degree in Social Welfare/Social Work and an MSW degree from a CSWE-accredited social work program;
- At least 2 years of post-BSW or post-MSW practice experience;
- University-level teaching experience;
- The ability to communicate effectively and work with culturally and ethnically diverse populations.

Desired/Preferred Qualifications

- Expertise in aging policy and practice
- Strong background and training in quantitative methodology

Rank and Salary

This is a tenure-track, assistant professor position (10 month/calendar year). Salary is competitive and dependent upon experience and qualifications. An excellent comprehensive benefits package is available which includes health/vision/dental plans and a defined-benefit retirement through the state system along with optional tax sheltering opportunities.
