

Position Announcement for Two (2) Tenure-Track Clinical Social Work Positions

The University of Nebraska at Omaha, Grace Abbott School of Social Work, invites applications for two(2) Assistant/Associate Clinical Professor tenure-track positions beginning August 2014.

Our School is engaged in local, national and global social welfare issues. We are a forward-looking faculty with a talented student body focused on a state-wide mission to insure the highest quality graduate social work education in Nebraska. The School offers the BSSW & MSW degrees and dual Master's Degrees in Social Work & Public Administration, Social Work & Public Health and Social Work & Criminal Justice. Our main areas of emphases are:

Child Welfare
Health/Mental Health
Gerontology

Responsibilities: Teach primarily advanced graduate clinical courses; develop and/or teach online distance courses; research & publications; service & community engagement.

Minimum Required Qualifications: MSW plus a minimum of three years of post-MSW practice experience; ABD with earned doctorate completed at time of appointment in Social Work or closely related field; eligible for Nebraska clinical licensure; teaching competency in advanced clinical courses; ability to develop and/or teach online courses; and potential for scholarly research & publications.

The University and School have a strong commitment to achieving diversity among faculty and staff. We are particularly interested in receiving applications from members of under-represented groups and strongly encourage women and persons of color to apply. Salary and rank are commensurate with qualifications and experience.

Submit letter of application, curriculum vitae and names of three references to www.unomaha.edu. Review of applications begins immediately and will continue until the position is filled. Contact Dr. Peter Szto, School of Social Work, pszto@unomaha.edu, or www.socialwork.unomaha.edu for more information about the School or University.