The University Center Matters this Valentine's Day

Gift Mart and various Attractions Available for the Romantic Holiday

University Center, (February 1, 2006) - What matters most to the UH community during this time of the year? Valentine's Day! There's no better way to celebrate than with the UC Matters of the Heart: Gift Mart, from 10:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. Tuesday, February 14 in and around the UC Arbor.

This event, open to all, will feature various events, gifts and exhibitions from on-campus organizations as well as selected off-campus vendors. How often have you and your significant other talked about receiving relationship counseling? Thanks to UH Wellness, a FREE relationship workshop will be available in the World Affairs Lounge from 12:00 to 1:00 p.m.

Worried about what to give that special someone? Not to worry, various vendors from across the UH community will be available during the event to entice you with fabulous jewelry, flowers, delicious candy, buttons and more. Don't forget to visit the Student Program Board in the UC Arbor where you can partake in the fun Stuff-A-Bear activity. Shasta's Cones & More will also be on site giving out free mini ice cream cones featuring their flavor of the month, Birthday Cake!
