Fool Around Before Finals Student Appreciation Days Offer Break for Students

Students need a break every once and a while and now thanks to the UC Games Room, UC Satellite Games Rooms and Shasta's Cones and More, they have an opportunity to let off some steam before finals begin.

The UC Games Room, UC Satellite Games Room and Shasta's Cones and More are pleased to offer Student Appreciation Days Monday and Tuesday, December 4th and 5th from 9:00 a.m. – 5:00 p.m.

Student Appreciation Days pledges to give overworked and stressed students a chance to relax before finals start by offering free bowling, billiards and table tennis. It is also a way for the UC Games Room, UC Satellite Games Room and Shasta's Cones and More to show their appreciation.

"This event is a way for us to thank the students for their continued support during the semester," Bill Schwehr, Assistant Director for UC Leisure Services said.

This popular event is open to all University of Houston students with a valid UH I.D. so arrive early. Should a waiting list form, playing time will be limited to two hours.

"In the past, Student Appreciation Days have been well attended," Schwehr said. "But don't let the waiting list turn you away from the offer, it's just a way to allow everyone a chance to unwind."
