We currently permit Architecture students, who minor in Construction Management (CM), to satisfy the prerequisites of minor courses CNST 2341 and 2351 with ARCH 2325 or 2326. We were informed by the College of Architecture that ARCH 2325 or 2326 classes are no longer taught but the content of the courses has been incorporated into two new courses: ARCH 2327 and 2428.

- ARCH 2325: Conceptual Structural Systems, replaced by ARCH 2327: Technology 1
- ARCH 2326: Conceptual Environmental Systems, replaced by ARCH 2428: Technology 2

We have reviewed the course content and confirmed the equivalency. Therefore, we will permit Architecture students who have completed the new courses (ARCH 2327 or 2428) to enroll directly into CNST 2341 or 2351 for the CM minor without requiring any other prerequisites.
