Are you confused on how to get your course back on track after Harvey? Do you want to know what to do in the future or how some simple best practices can help you? If so, come meet the Instructional Design Consultants on Monday, September 18th in the Faculty Café 9:00 am - 12:00 pm.

This is an informal session open to all faculty across campus where you can bring your questions about course design and development, course delivery, and training on UH supported tools (i.e. Blackboard, Turnitin, Clickers, etc). There will be 4-5 Instructional Design Consultants available for individual or small group consultations. Bring your computers and enjoy a hands on session.

Led by Director, Dr. Linda Davis, the CLASS Instructional Design team is composed of four Instructional Design Consultants. Their mission is to be the leading resource for CLASS instructors in the design, implementation, and delivery of online, hybrid, and face-to-face courses. They provide support and training in course pedagogy and design, identifying engaging learning materials, creating assessments and rubrics, and many other topics.

They also provide support in utilizing BlackBoard, TurnItIn, Respondus Lockdown Browser, TurningPoint Clickers, and other UH supported tools. The CLASS team provides video and lecture capture opportunities in their recording studio and MediaSite classroom. Finally, if you need assistance or have an innovative idea for your course, please email classidt@uh.edu or check out the website at http://www.uh.edu/class/oet/.
