Registration Complete

You have successfully registered for your New Student Orientation. You do not need to set up an advising appointment as one is made for you when you register and you will meet with your advisor during your conference date. The holds on your account will remain there until the day of your conference to ensure your attendance.

NSO held in May, June and July are required overnight programs. NSO held in August are one day only events and there is no overnight housing available.

A detailed schedule will be sent to you one week prior to your conference date.

Overnight Requirement: There is no housing for one-day orientations. However, all students, regardless of permanent address or living on/off campus, attending a two-day orientation are required to stay overnight on the first night of their two-day conference. You will not select your roommate during this conference. Guests cannot stay overnight with you.

Changing your conference date:
When selecting your conference date, you should plan ahead and choose a program that you will definitely be able to attend. Changing from one program to another is like starting over. There are a limited number of seats in each program and we expect programs to fill up quickly, so finding a different date that works for you could be difficult. In the event that a change is unavoidable, please remember that changes must be made up until a week prior to the scheduled conference as long as there is availability.

No changes to New Student Conference dates will be permitted within a week of each conference date. Also, in order to ensure that every student receives the best possible orientation experience, we do not allow walk-ins at any New Student Orientation.

Parents and guardians are welcome to attend and if attending, will follow a separate schedule of events. Because of the nature of the program, it is not appropriate for anyone except parents/guardians or spouses to attend as a guest.
