Introduction

This report details the responses from College of Liberal Arts and Social Science (CLASS) exit surveys that were completed by 624 graduating CLASS baccalaureates in May 2010. Surveys were completed both on paper at the Spring Commencement ceremony and on-line in the weeks that followed. Students answered questions related to their educational experience in CLASS as well as plans after graduation. The survey is composed of a total of 24 closed- and open-ended questions. This is the third consecutive year that students have been asked the same core of questions. This report presents those findings including comments in the students own words.

Highlights of the Findings

Student Satisfaction:
Over the past three years in which these questions have been asked of graduating baccalaureates, student satisfaction is as high as it’s ever been. The item with the highest percentage of respondents who strongly agreed was, “I believe I made the right decisions in choosing my major” (page 9). Students gave slightly higher percentages of positive rankings this year as opposed to last (page 5).

Advising:
A number of questions focus on how students feel about their advisors (questions 1-3). Clearly, students feel very strongly about advising which can be seen in the scaled items (page 10-12) as well as the open-ended questions (comments begin page 40). Students referred to advisors and advising time and again throughout the comments and many individuals were praised as part of the programs, services, or people who assisted students in achieving their academic goals.

Comments:
The 2009 survey increased the number of open-ended questions, and in the 2010 survey, even more students responded to these prompts. The verbatim comments have been included throughout this report. See the Notes on Methods below for a listing of those questions. Many students’ comments continued to be most revealing, incisive, and generally positive. Students were likely to comment on a variety of aspects and experiences of their time at the University of Houston and not just in their major or in CLASS.

Future Plans:
Students continue to find jobs: 21% of graduating baccalaureates had secured employment in their field (page 25) and another 28% had secured employment in other fields (page 29). Graduate school was also a part of students’ immediate plans: 10% percent had already been accepted to graduate school and an additional 7% had applied and were waiting for a response. 56% reported plans to attend graduate school in the future (page 16).
Notes on Methods

The findings from the surveys are presented in three sections: scale items, future plans, and responses to open-ended items. Students were also asked to provide their major academic plan, expected graduation date, overall enrollment status (full versus part-time), and certain demographic information. The college has used the same survey items this year as in the previous two years.

The scale items asked graduating baccalaureates to choose a level of agreement (Strongly Agree, Agree, Disagree, Strongly Disagree) for the following statements:

1. I had access to an advisor when I needed one.
2. The advisors in my major were effective in guiding me through my academic requirements.
3. The advisor(s) I consulted with clearly explained my graduation requirements.
4. I am satisfied with the courses I took in my major.
5. I am satisfied with the courses I took in CLASS.
6. I feel prepared to work in the field of my major.
7. I believe I made the right decision in choosing my major.
8. The Writing Center helped me improve my writing skills.
9. The Language Acquisition Center helped me improve my world language skills.

Students who marked “NA” or “Did not use” for the scale items are not included in the tabulations or percentages for that item.

The future plans questions asked students to outline their post-baccalaureate plans, including whether or not the student was applying for graduate school (questions 10 and 11), employment in his/her field (question 12), employment in another field (question 13), teaching in his/her field (questions 14 and 15), or teaching in other fields (questions 16 and 17).

The open-ended questions are as follow:

18. Name the two most positive aspects of your learning experience in CLASS.
19. Tell us about academic or administrative areas that need improvement. Do you have any suggestions for how we might improve in those areas? (i.e. Advising, Class (size, availability, degree planning, etc.))
20. What specific programs, services or people assisted you in achieving your academic goals?

Students were also asked a few demographic questions to establish a student profile: mostly full-time or mostly part-time enrollment (question 21), male or female (question 22), age (question 23), and race/ethnicity (question 24).
Summary of Ratings

Summary Chart 1. For questions 1-7, percents of all respondents choosing positive (strongly agree or agree) vs. negative (disagree or strongly disagree).

- Students were overwhelmingly positive about their experience in CLASS, and these percentages are slightly higher compared to last year. The highest ratings were for satisfaction with major courses and courses in CLASS.
- Students felt strongest that they had chosen the right major: 68% of students strongly agreed.
- Responses varied, sometimes greatly, from department to department. The following pages take questions 1-7 individually and disaggregate the results by department.

- Most of the responses for both question 8 and 9 are grouped at the center with most students agreeing or disagreeing with the statements.

- Typically, there is a high correlation between use of the centers and positive ratings. For example, for the Writing Center, Modern and Classical Language majors reported using it the most and 100% of students strongly agreed or agreed that the Writing Center helped them improve their writing skills. Conversely, Theater majors were the least likely to use the Writing Center and two-thirds of those students disagreed or strongly disagreed with the statement.

- The same correlation between use and positive ratings is found in the data on question 9. The Spanish majors had the highest rate of use, and 70% of their students strongly agreed that the Language Acquisition Center had helped them improve their world language skills. Philosophy majors reported the least amount of usage, and 100% of their students disagreed with the statement.

- As a reminder, only students who used the centers were asked if those centers improved their skills.
Future Plans of Graduating Baccalaureates

Plans for graduate/professional school
Question 10 asks graduating students about their plans for graduate or professional school; students could choose:

I have applied for graduate/professional school next year and am waiting for response;
I have been accepted to a graduate/professional school and plan to enroll next year;
I plan to attend graduate/professional school in the future;
I do not plan on attending graduate/professional school.

Respondents could also answer “other” and were given space to write in comments.

Chart 10: For question 10, percents of all respondents.

- 17% of students were immediately planning to attend graduate school; 10% had already been accepted. See question 11 for more information on which schools students were planning to attend.
- Of those who answered “other,” many expressed they were unsure but were considering further graduate or professional school.
- Only 22% did not plan to attend at all.

Employment in Field
Question 12 asks students for their plans regarding employment in their field; students could choose:

I am currently employed in my field;
I have accepted a position in my field;
I am currently seeking employment in my field;
I have no plans for employment in my field.

Respondents could also answer “other” and were given space to write in comments.

Chart 11: For question 12, percent all respondents.

- 21% of graduating baccalaureates had secured employment in their fields as of May 2010.
- At least a quarter of Theater, Spanish, Sociology, Music, Economics, and Art majors had secured employment in their field.
- Since 17% of students reported immediate plans for graduate school in question 10, it is perhaps not surprising that many answering “other” on this question expressed a desire to go to graduate or professional school. Verbatim comments are given below, following the disaggregated table.

Teaching in Major Field

Question 14 asks students about their plans regarding teaching in their field; students could chose:

I have accepted a teaching position in my field;
I plan to find a teaching position in my field;
I do not plan to teach in my field.

Respondents could also answer “other” and were given space to write in comments.

Chart 13: For question 14, percent of all respondents.

- The number of graduating baccalaureates who have accepted teaching positions in their field has been gradually declining over the 3 years this question has been asked.

- Students from 6 departments had 40% or more respondents who had accepted a position or were planning to find a position teaching in their field: Music, Modern and Classical Languages, History, Spanish, English, and Theater.

- Many comments reflected that students remained open to teaching in their field although it was not in their immediate plans. Verbatim comments are given below, following the disaggregated table.

- Hands on experience and work in the field.
Areas that need improvement

Question 19 asks students to tell us about academic or administrative areas that need improvement and if they have any suggestions for how we might improve those areas (i.e. Advising, Class-size, availability, degree planning, etc). 264 students responded. The comments are given verbatim below. They have been listed by the student’s major although again many comments refer to a variety of aspects at UH and not always specifically the student’s department. Many students tempered their complaints with thoughtful comments and occasionally more praise, while 55 students responded with “n/a,” “no’s,” dashes, or other comments that indicated no improvement was needed.

Anthropology

- I really think there needs to be stronger advisory endeavor to help students who intend to go further in graduate studies. There isn't enough support about what to do, who to see, how to get in...presently there is only the advice to check the admission requirements...for people who work and are more mature, there is little encouragement from professors or undergraduate advisers.
- Not needed.
- Availability, guidance in future planning for Grad School.
- ---
- More diverse courses, more available, also please help increase our dept.
- Spanish Dept. need improvement as does advising (# of available advisors).
- Advising, Class.
- I would've liked to see more "ancient art" art history classes, like Egyptian. So I wanted to take Byzantine art, but it was never offered during the 4 years I was here.

Art

- It's pretty perfect!
- Computer labs & equipment need constant updating.
- My advisor gave me misinformation and blamed me for not seeing her every semester, but wrong information is still wrong information. This caused me to graduate a year later than anticipated. I also had trouble booking time to see her and recently she flat out refused to see me or even help me through email or the phone. I had to go to the administrator abover her to resolve my dilemma. I am very unsatisfied with my advisor.
- Can't think of anything.
- I felt discouraged to keep going with my major even though my gpa was good and I was doing well in classes.
- None.
- More advisors.
- ---
- The advising because they told me a month before graduation that one of my classes wouldn't cont.
- I really enjoyed working with my academic advisor - no changes.
- Degree planning.
- Answering the phone.
- Advisement between education and school of Art.
- Nothing Great.
- Parking needs improvement.

Communication

- I did not have a problem w/ advising but I know many who did.
- Nothing.
Undergraduate Exit Survey Report
College of Liberal Arts and Social Sciences and Office of Institutional Research

- Advising, they went to "appointments only" and that made it very hard access them when needed them the most. Appointments would be booked 2-3 weeks in advance when it was time to enroll.
- The comm school ignores radio.
- ----
- The advising center is a DISASTER!! The wait time to see an adviser is too long. There needs to be more counseling hours. Les Oliver is so RUDE!
- Advising.
- Advising seemed clueless about course requirements and curriculum for my degree; $50 + $25 late fee to "apply" to graduate and my name was still not in the commencement program; 4 courses of foreign language was the biggest waste of my time and GPA, furthermore the Spanish department were the most tirannical and ball-busting group of people I have ever had the disfortune of meeting. Do away with the majority of the basic pre-req COMM classes, like 1301 and 1302, and introduce students to website building, monitoring, tracking, etc, NOW.
- Advising more precise.
- More advisors to accommodate students.
- Spanish dept.-teachers are great-workload is crazy.
- n/a.
- Lack of interest in helping students in the admin. dept.
- n/a.
- Advising needs to be more specific.
- Class sizes are too big.
- Some of the classes are filled quickly. More classes each semester.
- Advising: have students to visit advisors twice a semester; Encourage students to participated in organizations.
- Advising needs improvement; we need to know the fastest way to graduate.
- The welcome center RIDICULOUS!
- Advising availability.
- Advising-- first good advisor my last semester (Zamora)
- The classes were great but the administrative part can be fixed.
- Peoplesoft could use a little fine tuning. If possible it would be helpful if advising appointments could be set thru peoplesoft.
- Advisors more time for students, more advisors.
- Advising, career counseling.
- Advising needs a lot of work.
- N/A.
- Better define ALL requirements for each degree.
- The school is good as is. I guess advisors could be more accessible.
- Advising should slightly be improved. I was told a couple of opposing views in regards to my major.
- Advising could stand for some improvement.
- n/a-some professors are to harsh. Some need to know the meaning of understanding.
- Advising for minor degree plans could use more structure.
- The only real problem I had was the availability of the Crisis Communication class. It was one of two courses to choose from for a fulfillment of one section of the curriculum and it was also the only one I had the prereqs for. The problem was it was only offered at 1 in the afternoon and I work during the day. Luckily, and thanks to the generosity of Dr. Vardeman-Winter, I was able to get approval to take the other course (Issues Management) without one of the prereqs.
- Communications curriculum, especially media production. I feel like more than half the classes I took were a waste of my time. - Make setting up an appointment with an advisor more convenient. Set up a way to do it via email/online form so I don't have to.
- n/a.
- Advising should be more accessible.
- Advising location was hard to find.
- Advising-advisors do not seem to know about the classes and just read off of an audit.
- Advising the advisors are not helpful, rude and unknowledgable.
- n/a.
- Increase Campus Recruitment Employer Participants.
- The comm. advising office never opens their doors or answers the phone on time.
- More night classes.
- More access to Prof. Crixell. UH’s HUGEST ASSET.
- Offer more courses for advertising.
- More teachers and classes in Media Production.
- CLASS is the largest college on campus. I recommend more qualified advisors for our students.
- Advising seemed to be inaccessible at times.
- A new communications building with new studios.
- Degree planning and courses in field of major (health comm).
- More creative classes in advertising.

Communication Disorders
- Online courses difficult.
- Class size not good, in the grad program.
- ComD class timings are bad for students who work.
- No more online classes!

Economics
- Advising needs to be fixed. First day on campus, my major adviser refused a meeting with me. So many problems could have been solved with some simple help and direction. Academic affairs needs improvement: depending on the mood and day, I was told a variety of requirements for graduation that contradicted published material, all at the 11th hour before graduation. Transfer credits: these were a mother fucking nightmare to deal with. THIS NEEDS TO BE STREAMLINED. But you all know that, which is why you went to the efforts to "Achieve the Dream." Intro to Poetry is Into to Poetry no matter how many ways you slice it, do I really need an original syllabus to prove that? No imagine going through that for 15 other classes! It took 20 months to get that straightened out. I am disappointed with some of the outcomes, including study abroad credits in language. It's frustrating to be denied credit from a department, despite mastering a second language at another school to the level of fluency and working as a translator, only to be denied third year credit because of the Dean's need for specific documentation. Paper work in general: please streamline that. I can't wait 3 months between petitions. Also, 8 weeks for graduation paperwork to be processed? That's an absolute joke!
- English Department: I had writing classes from a Tier 1 university, and they wouldn't take them for Freshman Writing II. That was a class I literally took 12 years ago in high school. Waste of my time and money. I would gladly pay somebody $70 to take a test to prove my writing skills are up to snuff, but then again what do I know, I only have two short stories and a play to my name. Campus Safety: Well, you know the issues. I get a little edgy walking around campus, especially in the afternoons; not to mention the neighborhood around campus. I did have a gun pulled on me and my family (not on campus though—but a few blocks away). Parking: You tore down a parking lot to put in a dorm? Peoplesoft: The gentleman who programs peoplesoft lives in Greece. Yes, Greece. When a correction needs to be made to the system, it goes to the other side of the world to be handled, unless of course he is locked out of the system by the IT department. This caused me many advising errors and a long time to correct. There are only a few regrets in life, and the University of Houston has been a whale of one.

- A bigger computer lab.
- Everything seems fine to me.
- N/A.
- n/a.
- No.
- Better classes.
- n/a.
- More advisor, better division of classes regarding career interests.
- Research Areas.
- Economics Undergraduate advising could use a bit of improvement.

- Advising.
- It's good as it is.
- Improved degree planning and counseling promotion.
- Clearer advising, more guidance.
- N/a.
- Not really.
- Some teachers I had were not the best or not very good at teaching, for the most part I had great teachers.
- None.
- More advisors.

English

- Availability.
- Please offer a greater variety of English courses listed in catalog- several I wanted to take were never offered.
- People Soft needs improvement.
- Class-More online classes. I'm a single mom & these are immensely helpful.
- N/A.
- ADVISING!
- Graduation paper work procedures could be easier.
- Advising Appointments always late and people (probably student workers) are rude.
- More online classes.
- The English Advising.
- More advisors!
- N/A.
- Better counselors w/ accurate information.
- Find a way for questions to be answered quickly online.
- Need to pay more attention to transfer credits & what will count towards degree before deadlines.
- Advising- just let student know exactly what is needed to graduate. Even elective courses.
- I feel that the English-Creative Writing degree curriculum could focus a bit more on writing.
- Actually offer and have all the courses you advertise having or don’t say you have it.
- N/A.
I loved my advisor, he was so helpful, but the university in general has a lot of red tape that stresses me out.

Administrative communication could be clearer.

N/A.

Advising.

More valid classes.

Advisors were hard to get in contact w/ sometimes.

Availability of classes.

Peoplesoft should die.

Paperwork b/w depts. Info always getting "lost."

Better advising, make clear and easier appointments.

History

- Languages!
  - n/a.
  - No.
  - Parking, food.
  - Hawes and Decker suck; Spanish was crap.
  - No.
  - I guess I could have used better degree planning.
  - Academic advisor needs improvement.
  - More walkin time.
  - There should be a Major degree plan for people that want to teach social studies not just a composite minor. NO SCHOOL WILL HIRE A TEACHER THAT IS JUST HISTORY they MUST be certified Social Studies Composite. I had to add a fifth year because of this.
  - EDUCATION DEPARTMENT!!!!
  - The undergrad history advisor is rarely helpful.
  - n/a.
  - Clearer degree planning.

Modern and Classical Languages

- No.
  - No improvement needed.
  - n/a.
  - Classrooms should be easier to find.
  - Erika Jimenez was helpful but there was at least one issue that would have kept me from graduating now had Debra Frazier not been there to advise me.

Music

- I think it's important to note who is teaching the classes that are supposed to prepare you for field work. As a music student in the fourth year of study I believe that it is a bit baby-ish and condescending to our intelligence that notes be handed out and then read word for word by the teacher each class time, and not elaborated on, just plainly read from the sheet we have in front of us. I also think it's sad and in poor taste for teachers to favor students they like and disregard concerns or questions of other students. It was obvious in a few of my classes that this was the motivation of class participation and grades. I loved my time at the Moore’s School of Music but there are many things that happen under the table and behind closed doors in the band department/education side of things that really discourage learning. Personal feelings about someone or their relationships should not dictate grades or second chances. On top of that statement, boys should not be the only ones favored, and other teachers' influences/opinions about situations should not factor in to a student's class participation/academic achievement grade. I think the ethics of some teachers needs to be reviewed and maybe their influence on the university should be rethought. It is apparent in many cases the motivation of some teachers is not loyalty to this university or what it stands for. Not being there for your students unless you like them is your own business, but changing dates of finals (which are supposed to be set by the university) to accommodate your schedule (to make more money) says a lot about the person you are and the importance of this class to your life. I think it is also important to note that if there was not a fear factor in standing up for myself against these people that think they can run our lives (but don't take time out of their own to show us that we should trust them, that are so absorbed in themselves and how important they think the outside perceives them to be), then I would have done the right thing when I was wronged and reported what I was told, in the context I was told, to the right person who could have seen how hurtful some people can be and unethical in determining my grade. My degree is almost embarrassing because of the cocky reputation of these people, and the stress they add with their drama and unnecessary actions, really make the "best music school for education" an absolute hell hole unless you know how to kiss ass. (I'm sorry for my language.) I really hope that one day I can be proud of what I've accomplished, and proud of my school (MSM), but I feel like it's all going downhill, and fast, unless someone can get in there and clean up this mess.

- Get rid of Dr. Pollack teaching Music History III. That man can NOT teach to save his life and while he may be a great scholar, his educational skills are decrepit.
- Keep working for Tier 1 Status-the changes thus far have been outstanding but there is still room for improvement overall.
- None, my advisors in both degrees are great. (Debra Frazier & Carrie Young). Very very helpful. Thank you!
- Carrie Young was the best advisor I have dealt with at U of H. She was very helpful.
- The advisors were extremely helpful I hope they stay helping students in the following years.
- Education department and their organizational skills. Also communication between Education Dept. and music school.
- Education department and their organizational skills.
- No.
- Carrie is so awesome, no changes necessary. (to music advising).
- A more limited selection among students: music school is over-crowded, especially.
- Have to take a few classes that are not vital.

Philosophy
- Since the welcome center everything has been much better.
- na.

Political Science
- More Saturday classes.
- Advising took days to get an appointment.
- Possibly, to be more hands on with students' progress.
- More advising hours/more advisors.
- More class availability.
- ---
- More class selection.
- Rita Griffin, you need to get her attitude and high horse in check. Keynesian economics is not the ONLY economic solution. There are conservatives on campus, ...I'm just saying.
- Class-sizes.
• Advising Dept. and staffing.
• Degree planning.
• The process is tailored to big groups, hard as an individual.
• Do not offer online courses, they are ridiculously easy and I think that is detrimental to any prestige that a political science degree from UH might have.
• More evening courses. More science/ research based undergraduate political science, a little less theory
• More work with advisors - Edward was great but it took me three years to find him
• More communication college wide with alumni and students in the form on a news letter and updates on college
• Update the course catalogue online with more accurate descriptions and so on
• CLASS graduation reception at 7:00am in the morning is really silly... no girl can get ready for graduation that early. I would have really liked to said thanks and good bye to some of my teachers and classmates and was unable to because there was no reasonably timed reception. More CLASS awards given our within the college by department and so on, and more clear organization and communication on scholarships for CLASS students.
• Quality of classes was generally mediocre. Would have liked the opportunity or requirement to choose a capstone within the major.
• Class size @ Bauer.
• The transcripts department is very unorganized.
• Edward Manelou is a great advisor and needs no further improvement.
• Make advisors more approachable.
• More advisors, decreted class size in poli sci, more money for history (more advisors esp.).
• Better advising.
• More structured learning.
• ---
• No.
• Everything was great!
• Fix financial aid- it has been perpetually broken.
• More stuff.
• Advisor Moullian is very rude and not helpful.

Psychology

• Online courses can not begin to compare with a face to face class. I did learn the material in the online courses but it was not a positive learning experience like I had in the face to face courses. I would like to suggest more hybrid classes (online assignments and maybe one day a week of face to face for a particular course) and more Saturday or weekend classes.

• FINANCIAL AID OFFICE NEEDS IMPROVEMENT.
• The neuropsych courses need to be offered more frequently.
• Need to be able to schedule same day appointment for advisor, students shouldn’t have to wait on Friday to make an appt for next following week. This should be changed. More peer counseling for incoming students. Professor mentorships with students could improve drop out rates.
• n/a.
• ADVISING!! Degree planning!!! Access to graduation-too much red tape!!!
• My degree was completed in the last fall semester, but I could not graduate because the last class I took Psych 2301 was a requirement to declare. I wish there was a system or way (even the advisors knew) wish this could have been improved upon instead of having to wait a whole semester to complete.
• I think more work fairs and opportunities for students after graduation should be implemented.
• Advisors shouldn’t give conflicting info.
• More time on math exams by 15 min.
• Advisors should be a LOT more informed in areas such as what it takes to get into graduate school and what steps an individuals needs to fulfill to be successful in this feat. They should be knowledgeable about, for example, the schooling necessary for particular degrees in the field of psychology. If not knowledgeable, they should at least have access to information that can be helpful to students with such questions. Undergraduates must consider when striving for their degree, such as determining which courses, activities, groups, etc. they should be involved in. This is to get ready for graduate school. For this reason, advisors should be more educated about grad school, in order to better advise students on how to get there.
• I feel that the current psychology course work should increase the availability of higher level statistics and statistics programming courses.
• It would have been nice to have a psychology orientation or handout that talks about HONORS requirements (I didn't even know there was an honor's college until my 2nd semester at UH), psi-chi, services offered in the psychology department (free computer lab), and discusses graduate school requirements. It would have been nice to know from the beginning that I should concentrate on research experience for graduate school.
• Have more information available about graduate programs and make those known to students. Also, it would help if the advisors would those options be known to the student.
• Career planning.
• More variety of classes.
• Advising.
• Bigger classes for psych classes & bigger comp. lab.
• Physics dept needs improvement.
• n/a.
• Increasing mentorship programs for future career options.
• TRANSFER CREDITS!
• Psych advising department.
• Financial Aid.
• The administrative process.

• Psych needs to have advisors more readily available throughout the week.
• Availability.
• Advising, class curriculum, degree planning.
• Transfer student information.
• Advising was difficult, not clear, not much major guidance, help.
• The psych advisors& non-declared advisors at times gave me false information or were hard to get a hold of. However, the business advisors, esp. marketing, were fantastic.
• Small class sizes.
• Greater variety of classes (eg .statistics) w/professors - Better Advising.
• Size in physics.
• Advisors, aren't very informative.
• We should come together more so that the people in the field of study know each other and are closer maybe a banquet.

- n/a.
- None.

Spanish/ Hispanic Studies
- Some teachers.
- n/a.
- The Spanish Advising needs improvement. I had a lot of issues that could have been fixed just by looking at my records.

Theater
- Once a student leaves the school, they should not be forgotten about, especially when they were denied for graduation based on the negligence of the advisor.
- N/A.
- Degree planning and clear grad requirements.
- Have 2 academic advisors for theatre.
- We went through 3 advisors so that sucked.
- No more hiring dumb people for advisors, I like Andrew.
- The processing of changing my minor from Business to Dance took far too long. Paperwork seemed easily lost at times.
- Advising! Very hard to get a hold of him.
Assistance achieving goals

Question 20 asks students what specific programs, services, or people assisted them in achieving their academic goals. 241 students responded. The comments are given verbatim below. Again, they have been listed by the student’s major although many comments refer to a variety of aspects at UH and not always specifically the student’s department.

Psychology

- I did not use any particular services. I would like to say that I did not agree with having to use casa testing services for a face to face math class. I feel that a face to face class should have exams in the classroom during the regular class period. On the positive side: My Psychology advisor, Audri Villalon, did a great job. She answered my e-mails precisely and quickly. She was very clear on what was expected of me and addressed any and all issues for me right away.
