Aflac

Aflac policies are pre-tax they include the following policies:

Cancer Policy – Aflac’s most popular product on the market, Aflac Cancer Plans have always been designed to help with the expenses of cancer treatment that may not be covered by a major medical health plan or basic employer sponsored health benefit plan. Cancer treatment in general creates other costs outside of the cost of care, such as travel and lodging expenses.

Specified Health Event Policy (Critical Illness) - The Specified Health Event Protection plan addresses the increasing burden employees face year after year—the amount that is coming out of their own pockets to address health care services in the form of deductibles and copayments. The SHE plan covers health events such as heart attack, stroke, end stage renal failure, coma, major third degree burns, paralysis, or human organ transplant.

Accident Policy – Aflac’s 2nd most popular product on the market today. While Aflac can’t prevent accidents from happening, we can help prepare for those unexpected expenses associated with an accident. Our promise is that when the unexpected happens, Aflac is there.

Hospital Policy – The Hospital policy is an ideal companion product to the Aflac Accident policy. Although almost anyone can relate to the risk of an accident and thereby understand the need for accident coverage, the primary reason for hospitalization is due to sickness, not accidents.
