

STUDENT SPOTLIGHT

TAYLOR RIGSBY

UHCAD student Taylor Rigsby's work will be included in the AIA 2016 Texas Student Biennial Exhibition on Friday September 16, 6:00 - 9:00 PM at Architecture Center Houston.

The model is made of twelve pieces of laser cut acrylic stacked on top of each other and spray painted. Upon notification of his work being included he said, "To me this model is a testament to how planning can pay off in the long run. It also happens to be the way I choose to work on all design: 80% thinking, 20% doing."

*Images from student's project