

a novel

Ruby Namdar

Presents:

The Ruined House

WHEN: February 5, 2018,
6PM

WHERE: McElhinney Hall,
Rm: 108

Join Ruby Namdar for a public book talk of his novel, The Ruined House, winner of the 2014 Sapir Prize. The novel marks the arrival of an important writer and sets a new standard in Jewish-American literature. A tale of the collision between tradition and contemporary life, it tells the story of Andrew Cohen, a professor at NYU whose happy, meticulously-arranged world begins to mysteriously unravel, disrupted by visions of an ancient religious ritual.

Contact Dr. Caryn Tamber-Rosenau for more information.

cmtamber@Central.UH.EDU