

CENSUS 2020

The Count, Money and Power

From the birth of this nation, and in countries around the world, counting the number of people has been fraught with problems. The 2020 census has raised many questions regarding participation, the security of data, and what an accurate count means. This panel discussion explores those questions from a global, national, state, and local perspective.

MONDAY, FEB 3

4:00 PM - 5:30 PM

The Honors Commons
M.D. Anderson Library
University of Houston

What do you and our community stand to gain or lose in money and power by your participation in the census?

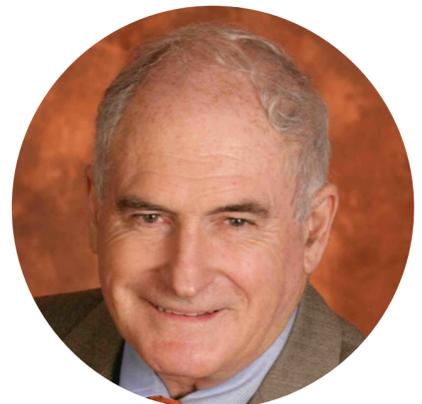

Panelist

Samia El-Badry, PhD

Lloyd Potter, PhD

Richard Murray, PhD