

Airborne Colony's Atmosfears: Poison Gas on the Frontier of British India

March 4, 2026

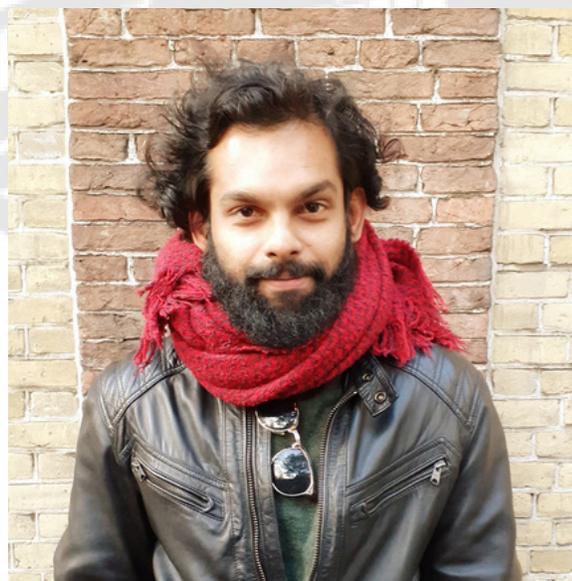

12:00-1:30 PM

Elizabeth D. Rockwell Pavilion

M.D. Anderson Library

2nd Floor

University of Houston

Joppan George, PhD

Postdoctoral Fellow

National Air and Space Museum

Smithsonian Institution

Join a public lecture in history of science and technology with Dr. Joppan George, Daniel and Florence Guggenheim Postdoctoral Fellow at the National Air and Space Museum, followed by a discussion and refreshments.

Students are invited to meet the speaker before the talk for free coffee and snacks from 10:00-11:00AM in Classroom and Business Building Room 104

Co-sponsored by the Department of History; Institute for Global Engagement; Center for Public History; NEH-Cullen Chair in History & Business; Department of Earth and Atmospheric Science; Department of Mechanical and Aerospace Engineering; Hewlett Packard Enterprise Data Science Institute; and the UH India Studies Program.

Institute for Global Engagement
UNIVERSITY OF HOUSTON

History

College of Liberal Arts and Social Sciences