

The Mexican American Experience Through Film

MAS 3341-1 (24817) Fall 2014
Tuesdays and Thursdays 10:00 to 11:30pm
Dr. Christina L. Sisk

In this course, students will watch a variety of films that represent Mexican Americans in the United States. A key topic will be the representation of Latinos/as in the U.S. media and how that affects identity. Other topics will include but are not limited to gender/sexuality, the Hollywood star system, and migration. For more information, email Dr. Sisk at clsisk@uh.edu
