Research Progress Grant- Early Career

Overview

The Research Progress Grant for Early Career faculty is intended to provide assistance in furthering faculty research projects. Individuals are eligible for up to $4,000 while groups are eligible for up to $12,000 (Maximum of 3 applicants). Rationale for group proposals need to be delineated clearly, the specific contributions of each individual faculty must be made clear.

Faculty are not allowed to submit more than one RPG application in any given academic year.

Also, if a faculty member submits an individual application, they cannot apply as an applicant on a group proposal in the same year. Faculty will be awarded funds based on the academic merit of their work. Applications are reviewed by the CLASS Research Committee who then submit recommendations for funding to the Associate Dean for Research.
