Dr. Xiaoping Cong Included in a Book on Leading Chinese Historians

Dr. Xiaoping Cong recently published an autobiographical essay in Discovering History in the United States: A Collection of the Reflections of Chinese Historians Who Have Studied and Are Working in the United States. The book was published in Chinese by Beijing University Press and charts the experience of leading Chinese historians working in the United States. In her contribution, Dr. Cong reflects on range of topics including her Ph.D. work at the University of California, Los Angeles, experience working in the U.S. university system, and the publication of her award-winning book, Teachers' Schools and the Making of the Modern Chinese Nation-State, 1897-1937 (University of British Columbia Press, 2007). The History Department congratulates Dr. Cong on her latest accomplishment.
