

UNIVERSITY OF HOUSTON

FALL 2013

COLLEGE OF LIBERAL ARTS & SOCIAL SCIENCES

Department of Modern and Classical Languages

Russian is definitely one of the most useful foreign languages to learn. As Russia's economic strength continues to surge, and international relations move forward, this is a language that it would stand you in very good stead to learn, in a business sense in particular.

Russia is the largest country in the world, occupying almost one-sixth of the planet's land mass. Learning Russian language will give you the opportunity to open up a window onto a fascinating and enchanting nation and join more than 200 million people who speak Russian.

RUSSIAN LANGUAGE

The Modern and Classical Language Department offers 2 years Russian language classes for the beginners (taught in English).

RUSS 1501-1502 Beginning Russian (Instructor Elena McGee)

RUSS 2301- 2302 Second-Year Russian I (Instructor: Elena McGee)

You may also take Russian Literature class in Fall 2013:

RUSS 2304: Survey of Russian Literature of 19-20th Century (Instructor: McGee)