

ANNOUNCING

2021 MMI Teaching Prize for Innovative Uses of Media

To acknowledge faculty and instructor adaptations to the teaching challenges posed by this year's shift to remote online, socially distanced and HyFlex learning, the Media and Moving Image Initiative announces an instructional design and teaching prize for media-related teaching adaptations and innovations.

Eligibility

Faculty and instructors in CLASS and the McGovern College of the Arts offering a course in Spring 2020, Fall 2020, or Spring 2021

Prize

One prize per college in each of the following categories

$2500 Full-time faculty

$2500 Part-time faculty

$1000 Graduate teaching fellow

Application

Submit to mmi@uh.edu a single aggregate PDF with the following:

1. Cover Sheet
2. Letter of application: 1000-word description of applicant's teaching challenge and solution (max 2 pages)
3. Relevant access links and passwords, possibly including Blackboard access, recorded lecture, and other media documenting course content, experience, and evidence of effectiveness (max 1 page)
4. Optional appendix of supporting documents, which might include student evaluations or letters of recommendation by students, colleagues, and department chairs (max 5 pages)

Cover Sheet: 2021 MMI Teaching Prize for Innovative Uses of Media

Name

College

Department

Rank

Email

Course and Section number

Course title

Semester /Year

Enrollment

Instructional mode

Asynchronous online

Synchronous online

Hybrid

HyFlex

F2F