Thursday, April 12, 2018
1-3:30 p.m.

SKYWARN Storm Spotters are trained volunteers that watch the skies during severe weather and relay reports back to the National Weather Service (NWS). The NWS depends on accurate severe weather reports from trained SKYWARN Storm Spotters in order to issue accurate weather warnings in the local area. Come join the NWS Houston/Galveston Weather Forecast Center Office, in partnership with the Office of Emergency Management and learn:

- Basic Thunderstorm Development
- How to Spot Severe Weather
- What to Report
- How to Report Severe Weather to the National Weather Service (NWS)
- Basic Severe Weather Safety

Training is FREE and open to the public
No Experience Necessary
