

University of Houston Faculty Senate Resolution in Support of GLBT Students

(Passed by majority vote of the Faculty Affairs Committee on April 25, 2007 and by majority vote of the Executive Committee on April 30, 2007)

The University of Houston is presently the most ethnically and culturally diverse urban university in the United States. To maintain this status and foster a supportive campus environment, the institution and its faculty are committed to supporting the rights of both individuals and groups to freely and openly express their disparate positions. As such, the Faculty Senate of the University of Houston is supportive of students who are part of the gay, lesbian, bisexual and trans-sexual (GLBT) university community and those services provided by the university to the GLBT community that promote a culturally diverse campus body.
