Certain categories of foreign-born and immigrant students in the state of Texas can meet state requirements for residency under Texas Education Code, Chapter 54, Section 54.052(a)(3). This state law allows such students to pay the resident tuition rate while attending public institutions of higher education in Texas, and be classified as state residents for tuition purposes. As Texas residents, such students are eligible to apply for some student financial aid programs offered by the state of Texas.

Please Note: In order to qualify for state student financial aid, the college/university must first make the determination on the student's residency status. Also, keep in mind that the state's definition of residency does not make a student eligible for federal financial aid.

Section IV: Income and Assets

Part A: Annual Untaxed Income

26. Child support received

Report child support that you and either your spouse or your parents, as applicable, received for all children during 2010. Do not include foster care or adoption payments.

27. Tax exempt interest income

If you filed a tax return, you can find it on IRS form 1040-line 8b or 1040A line 8b.

28. Housing, food, and other living allowances

Housing, food, and other living allowances provided to you or your parents must be reported. These allowances must be reported when they are part of a compensation package that some people receive for their jobs. Include cash payments and cash value of benefits. If you received free room and board in 2010 for a job, you must report the value of the room and board as untaxed income. (For this category, "housing allowances" excludes rent subsidies for low-income housing.)

29. Other untaxed income not reported, such as worker's compensation, disability

Don't include student aid, earned income credit, child tax credit, untaxed Social Security benefits, Workforce Investment Act educational benefits, combat pay(if you are not a tax filer), benefits from flexible spending arrangements (e.g. cafeteria plans), foreign income exclusion or credit for federal tax on special fuels.

Report any child support payments paid by you and either your spouse or your parents, as applicable, during 2010 as a result of divorce, separation or some other legal requirement. Keep in mind that these payments are payments made to children not living in your or your parents' household.

For purposes of this application, a child is a member of your household if you provide more than half of the child's support, whether the child lives with you or not.

33. Taxable earnings from State Work-Study or other need-based work programs

These are earnings from need-based work programs and need-based employment portions of fellowships and assistantships.

34. Taxable scholarships and grants reported on a 2010 tax return

Report any student grant and scholarship aid that was reported to the IRS on your or your parents' 2010 income tax return. This includes benefits such as awards, living allowances, and interest accrual payments as well as grant and scholarship portions of fellowships and assistantships.

Part C. Assets35. As of today, balance of cash, savings, and checking accounts

Do not include student financial aid in this amount.

36. As of today, investment net worth (do not include the home you live in or the balance of retirement plans)

Net worth means current value minus debt. If net worth is negative, enter "0."

Investment value - investment debt = net worth of investments

If you or your parents own real estate or investments other than your principal residence, investment value equals the amount the investments are worth today. Investment debt equals how much you and either your spouse or your parents, as applicable, owe on real estate and investments other than your principal residence. Investment debt means only those debts that are related to the investments.

Investments include real estate (do not include the home you live in), trust funds, UGMA and UTMA accounts, money market funds, mutual funds, certificates of deposit, stocks, stock options, bonds, other securities, installment and land sale contracts (including mortgages held), commodities, etc.

Investments also include qualified educational benefits or education savings accounts (e.g. Coverdell savings accounts, 529 college savings plans and the refund value of 529 prepaid tuition plans). For an independent student, the accounts owned by the student and/or the student's spouse are reported as investments in question 36 under the "Student/Spouse" column. For a dependent student, the accounts are reported as parental investments in question 36 under the "Parents" column, including all accounts owned by the parents for any member of the household.

Investments do not include the home you live in, the value of life insurance, retirement plans (401[k] plans, pension funds, annuities, non-education IRAs, Keogh plans, etc) or cash, savings and checking accounts already reported in question 35.

Investments also do not include UGMA and UTMA accounts for which you are the custodian, but not the owner.

37. As of today, net worth of current businesses and/or investment farms

Business and/or investment farm value includes the market value of land, buildings, machinery, equipment, inventory, etc.

Business and/or investment farm debt means only those debts for which the business or investment farm was used as collateral.

Business value does not include the value of a small business if your family owns and controls more than 50 percent of the business and the business has 100 or fewer full-time or full-time equivalent employees. For small business value, your family includes (1) persons directly related to you, such as parent, sister or cousin, or (2) persons who are or were related to you by marriage, such as a spouse, stepparent, or sister-in-law.

Investment farm value does not include the value of a family farm that you (your spouse and/or your parents) live on and operate.

Section V: Total Family Income

38. Was your Total Family Income less than $6,500 in 2010?

In order to accurately assess your financial situation, your college/university needs to account for all sources of income. In cases where your income falls below $6,500, an explanation is required, as this amount is considered to be significantly below the 2010 poverty level set by the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services. In the explanation that you provide to the college/university, make sure that you list all sources of income and itemize your living expenses.

If a relative claims you on his/her taxes, some schools may require that you provide a copy of his/her IRS Tax Form. Check with the school that you are planning on attending to find out if additional documentation is required.

Include a breakdown of your living expenses

If you answered "Yes," make sure that you provide a letter that explains all your sources of income and how you were able to cover all your living expenses. You may want to provide an itemized budget.

Section VI: Statement of Selective Service Registration Status

39. Certification of Registration Status

Under Texas Education Code, Section 51.9095, if you are currently of the age and gender requiring registration with Selective Service, but knowingly and willfully fail to do so, you are ineligible to receive funds from the State of Texas.

Exemptions

Almost all male U.S. citizens, and male non-citizens living in the U.S. who are 18 to 25 years of age, are required to register with Selective Service. Some non-citizens are required to register and others are not. Non-citizens not required to register include men who are in the U.S. on student or visitor visas, and men who are part of a diplomatic or trade mission and their families. Almost all other male noncitizens are required to register, including undocumented residents, legal permanent residents, and refugees.

Non-Registrants

If you are not registered as required, you are presently not eligible to receive state aid and should register promptly at a United States Post Office. A Certificate of Mailing may be obtained from the Post Office at such time that you mail your registration and may be used as proof of your application until you receive your Selective Service Registration Card.

Privacy Act Statement

Because information on your registration status is essential for determining whether you are in compliance with the Selective Service law, failure to provide the information requested by this statement will prevent you from receiving state aid. This information is subject to verification with the Selective Service System.

False Statement Notification

A false statement may be grounds for your state aid to be suspended.

Review

Should any question arise regarding your registration or eligibility for an exemption, you may request an official "status information" letter from the Selective Service System by calling 1-847-688-6888. As an alternative, you may send a written request to the Selective Service System at P.O. Box 94638, Palatine, IL 60094-4638.

Section VII: Signatures

40. Student and Parent Signature

Remember to sign your name on the application. Also, if you are classified as a dependent student, one of your parents must sign the application. The application will not be processed until all required signatures are included.

41. High School Counselor

This section applies only to those students who will be *first-year college students (freshmen) in the 2011-2012 academic year. If extenuating circumstances exist that preclude your parent from signing this form, your high school counselor can sign this form. When a high school counselor signs this form on behalf of the student's parent, the high school counselor is attesting to the accuracy of the information provided on the application based on his or her knowledge of the student's situation. Also, by signing the form, the counselor agrees to cooperate with the college or university's financial aid administrator in providing documentation that verifies the student's family circumstances and economic situation.

The option of allowing the high school counselor to sign this form is simply for the purpose of establishing a connection between the high school counselor and the college's financial aid administrator to help clarify and document the student's circumstances.

Some college and university financial aid administrators will contact the high school counselor for additional information and documentation. Therefore, the high school counselor must provide the following contact information: name, title, telephone number, e-mail address, and mailing address.

If you will not be a first-year college student in academic year 2011-2012, but have extenuating circumstances that preclude your parents from signing this form, contact the college's financial aid office.*
