CALL FOR APPLICATIONS

OVERVIEW

The University of Houston Graduate School is hosting the university-wide Graduate Research Showcase on November 1, 2019, at the UH Student Center Theater and Ballroom. This event is intended to showcase the breadth and depth of groundbreaking research being undertaken by UH graduate students across disciplines, as well as to offer opportunities for cross-disciplinary networking. The event will feature a poster session and an oral session in the form of a 3MT® competition. Graduate student winners from each category will be eligible to receive scholarship awards ranging from $250 to $1000. You must be present at the Awards ceremony to receive the scholarship if you are selected as a first, second, third place or people's choice winner.

3MT® Competition

A 3-minute thesis, or 3MT®, is a skill development activity that challenges graduate students to explain their research project to a non-specialized audience in just three minutes. Besides the time limitation, students are also limited to a single static PowerPoint slide with no additional electronic media or props. Participating in a 3MT® competition comes with various benefits. The competition cultivates students' academic, presentation, and research communication skills. Additionally, students increase their capability to communicate their research to a non-specialized audience. Finalists for the competition will be selected from a preliminary round which will be held on Friday, October 25, 2019.

Poster Session

The poster session will feature poster presentations by graduate students. While poster presentations are common to some disciplines (STEM, education, etc.), the goal is to encourage participation across the university and to include all areas. No particular format for the posters is required and each will be considered in relation to the research or creative products associated with the discipline. The Graduate School will work with the selected students to help prepare them for this opportunity. During the event, the posters will be judged by a panel of judges from a variety of disciplines.

Submission Criteria

The graduate student applicant should have research experience, the ability to communicate their research to a lay audience, and should be an active graduate student (masters or doctoral level) in good standing with their respective college. Applications must be submitted online no later than 5:00 PM CST on October 4, 2019 as a single pdf with the file name format as follows: StudentUHID_LastName_FirstName.pdf. Students will be notified of the outcome of the application process no later than October 11, 2019. If you have any questions, please contact Ms. Chastyne Blacklock 713-743-4226 or gradschool@uh.edu.
