

GRADUATE RESEARCH ASSISTANT

I am seeking a Graduate Research Assistant as part of funding from the National Science Foundation for a multi-university collaborative project. The focus of the project is on preparing hospitality workers and workplaces for increasing technology and automation. First preference is for someone who has worked in hotels and would like to complete the Master of Family and Consumer Science with an Emphasis in Hotel, Restaurant & Tourism Management (MFCS-HRTM). A candidate with a hotel background who is seeking another graduate degree at NMSU would be considered. The position is at the New Mexico State University Las Cruces campus.

The start date is January 2022. The position has funding for four years with an annual salary of $25,338. Tuition and healthcare are also funded. This is an exciting opportunity. For more information contact Dr. Betsy Stringam: betsys@nmsu.edu

BE BOLD. Shape the Future.
College of Agricultural, Consumer and Environmental Sciences
School of Hotel, Restaurant and Tourism Management