

CougarVision Quick-Start Guide

Accessing CougarVision

Go to <http://iptv.e.uh.edu> in your browser. Note: CougarVision only works in your dorm room.

If this is your first time using CougarVision, you will receive a prompt that looks similar to this:

Click the Allow button to launch the CougarVision player. Note: You may be prompted to install Java on your machine before launching the player.

Did the CougarVision player not appear?

Click the FAQ link in the upper right corner of the page (see above). You can also visit the FAQ page directly by going to <http://iptv.e.uh.edu/faq.php>.

Using the CougarVision player

When the player first appears, the first channel in the onGuide channel list will be playing. A preview of that channel is visible in the upper right corner.

The screenshot shows the Haivision onGuide interface. At the top, there are navigation icons for TV, onGuide, and a play button. The main header includes the Haivision logo, NBC logo, and a 'Playing' indicator. The date and time are shown as 'Sep 08, 2010 02:36 PM'. A search bar is located in the top right. Below the header, there is a description area that says 'Retrieving program information for this channel'. To the right of this area is a video preview window showing a woman, with the NBC logo and a 'WATCH TV' button below it. The main content area is a table with columns for Channel, Program, Time, and Title. The table is currently displaying a list of channels under the heading 'Live Channels'. The first channel, 005 KPRC, is highlighted in blue and has 'No Program Scheduled' listed next to it. Other channels listed include SVN, KTXH, KUHT, KRIV, KHOU, KTRK, KHUT, ENCORE, TWC, ESPN, ESPN2, ESPN, ESPN, ESPNCL, ESPNNEWS, FSN, FSN2, FSN3, NFLNET, FX, SPIKETV, COMEDY, TNT, TBS, USA, CNBC, CNN, CSPAN, CSPAN2, KUVN, DHC, SCIENCE, AETV, The Tube, TLC, SYFY, APL, and FOOD.

Channel selection

To select the channel you want to watch, use the + and – buttons in the toolbar, or double-click the channel in the onGuide list. A preview of it appears in the upper right corner of the window.

Tips

- Single-click a channel in the onGuide list lets you read what other programs are playing on that channel without leaving the one you're watching.
- Clicking the CH button in between the + and – buttons lets you jump back and forth between the last two channels you've been watching.

Watching a channel

- Volume control: Use the volume slider at the top of the window.
- Return to channel guide: Click the onGuide button in the upper left corner of the window.

Searching for a program to watch

From the onGuide, click the Search button at the top of the window. You can then scroll through the list of programming, or search for a program.
