Scripts Newsletter

October 2025

Announcing the launch of the Scripts Website

It brings us great excitement to share a new resource for staying up to date on all things Scripts-related. As of now, you can find us online, at our new website scriptsnarrativehealth.com. This website provides stream-lined access to Scripts information and services; you can use it to schedule a time to meet with the fellows, stay up-to-date on newsletters and event announcements, access past editions of the Scripts Narrative & Lyric Health Folio, or submit your own piece of writing for publication (more on that below). In the coming months, we hope to continue expanding the resources available on the website, so stay tuned!

Open Call For Submissions

Every two years, the Scripts program puts together a folio of writing done by medical students, physicians, and the greater Houston healthcare community. We are in search of stories and poems that engage with complex questions at the intersection of humanity and healing. The next issue of the folio will be released late Spring 2026, and we are accepting submissions until the 14th of November. If you have a story, short essay, poem, or mixed genre piece of writing that you would like to have published in the folio, you can send it to us at scriptsfellows@gmail.com or through the submissions page of the new Scripts website. Feeling hesitant about sending in your writing? We would be thrilled to work with you one on one to provide feedback and developmental edits. Just drop us a line via email or schedule an office hours appointment here.

Happy writing!
