

UNIVERSITY of HOUSTON
FACULTY EXPERT

AVAILABLE LIVE VIA DIGITAL STUDIO

Presidential & Executive Branch Politics

BRANDON ROTTINGHAUS
Professor of Political Science

Frequently provides commentary to national and Texas media outlets, and is cohost of Party Politics, a podcast on Houston Public Media

EXPERTISE

- Presidency
- Political Communication
- Political Scandal
- Executive-Legislative Relations

“George H.W. Bush was 'the last Rockefeller Republican'. He consistently put country above politics which was a challenge during his time in office as the American political world changed in his four years and the world was reshaped.”

PUBLICATIONS

- "Current Debates in the Lone Star State", Oxford University Press (forthcoming)
- "Inside Texas Politics: Politics, Policy and Personality in the Lone Star State", Oxford University Press
- "The Institutional Effects of Executive Scandal", New York: Cambridge University Press.
- Co-Author: 2018 Presidents & Executive Politics Presidential Greatness Survey

CREDENTIALS

- B.A., Political Science, Purdue University
- M.A., Political Science, Northwestern University
- Ph.D., Political Science, Northwestern University
- Co-founding designer of the Presidential Proclamations Project at UH, an online resource documenting presidential use of unilateral powers through executive proclamation

UH MEDIA RELATIONS CONTACT

Sara Tubbs 713-743-4248, sstubbs2@uh.edu