  Entering college students in Texas public colleges and universities are required to demonstrate their readiness for college-level coursework by meeting established minimum standards on Texas Success Initiative (TSI) assessments. The first step in taking the TSI Assessment is taking the TSI Pre-Assessment Activities. You can do this TODAY online through the UH Testing Center website. You can use the same username and password for all three Pre-Assessment Activities when you have created the login information.

  Plan to complete the TSI Assessment in advance of your New Student Orientation date to ensure that processing will be complete and avoid any delay in class registration when you attend your New Student Orientation. Read more at https://uh.edu/ussc/tsi/ or email: tsi@uh.edu for additional information.
