I. Course

A. Catalog Description
Cr. 3 (3-0) Knowledge and skills for integrating the practice of professional self-care in the social work profession.

B. Purpose
This course examines the natural consequences of helping (stress, burnout, compassion fatigue, secondary traumatic stress disorder, and vicarious trauma) and their impact on social workers, organizational settings, and the profession. Students will develop advocacy and clinical practice knowledge and skills for integrating professional self-care across diverse social work practice settings.

II. Course Objectives

Upon completion of this course, students will be able to:
1. Critically examine the natural consequences of helping in the social work profession, especially stress, burnout, compassion fatigue, secondary traumatic stress disorder, and vicarious trauma.

2. Recognize key individual worker characteristics, practice arena issues, and organizational factors which often contribute to the risk of developing these conditions.

3. Identify the specific signs and symptoms of stress, burnout, compassion fatigue, secondary traumatic stress disorder, and vicarious trauma and their impact on workers and workplace settings.
4. Explore current research and the incidence of these conditions across a variety of social work settings such as child welfare, family violence, sexual abuse, health care, HIV, hospice, traumatic grief, etc.

5. Develop an understanding of professional self-care as a means of preventing, managing, and addressing these conditions, and promoting social worker resiliency, improving organization morale, and improving retention of workers.

6. Explore the role of social workers in advocating and promoting the practice of professional self-care at individual, organizational, and professional levels.

7. Identify future implications and trends for addressing professional self-care and evaluating its effectiveness in social work education, social work practice, and the social work profession.

III. Course Content

This course will include the following topical areas:
1. Natural consequences of helping (stress, burnout, compassion fatigue, secondary trauma, vicarious trauma);
2. Professional self-care program and strategies for individuals, organizations/agencies, and the social work profession;
3. Research regarding the prevalence of these conditions in the field of helping in general and in particular, social work.

IV. Course Structure

This class will utilize several methods of instruction including lectures, discussions, in class practice exercises, discussion groups, guest lectures, assigned and recommended readings, and homework assignments integrated with the lectures. Blackboard Vista will be utilized as a means of posting assignments, supplementary required readings, essential updates, and for delivery and submission of assignments.

V. Required Textbook/Readings

Required Text:

Additional required readings will be assigned throughout the course and will be posted on Blackboard Vista.

VI. Course Requirements

A. Reading Assignments & Blackboard Vista
The course outline contains topics to be covered and reading assignments to be completed on a weekly basis. Students are required to check in weekly to Blackboard Vista to access readings, resources, and other materials for classes. Class time will be designed to clarify, and supplement the understanding of assigned readings. It is critical that students remain current with all reading assignments to fully participate in class and in any Blackboard Vista discussions, and to experience academic and personal success in this course.

B. Self-Care Plan
Students will develop a comprehensive self-care plan at the beginning of the course. Students will periodically evaluate their dedication and commitment to their plan. Specific guidelines and grading rubrics will be posted to Blackboard Vista.

C. Social Worker Interview & Summary
Students will complete an interview of a seasoned social worker with a focus on gathering information about four major areas—first, their experience with stress, burnout, compassion fatigue, or secondary trauma, second, their practice of self-care strategies, third, their exploration of the barriers which impact self-care, and fourth, any recommendations for maintaining social worker resilience. Specific guidelines and grading rubrics will be posted to Blackboard Vista.

D. Reflection Exercise
At the end of the course, students will reflect on their experience in this critically important class. Specific guidelines and grading rubrics will be posted to Blackboard Vista.

E. Professional Self-Care Project & Professional Self-Care Day
This is a five part assignment. Students, with the guidance of the course professor, will select a topic area for focus of independent study throughout the course. The selected topic must relate to the course emphasis on professional self-care and social work. Specific guidelines for the components of the project, grading rubrics, and timetable for submission of materials will be posted to Blackboard Vista.

VII. Evaluation and Grading

A. Grades for assignments will be based on the following:
Class Attendance, Participation, Group Work 15%
Self-Care Plan 15%
Social Worker Interview & Summary 20%
Professional Self-Care Project 40%
& Professional Self-Care Day
Reflection Exercise 10%

B. Final course letter grades are based on the following scale:

A = 96 - 100
A- = 92 – 95.9
B+ = 88 – 91.9
B = 84 – 87.9
B- = 80 – 83.9

C+ = 76 – 79.9
C = 72 – 75.9
C- = 68 – 71.9
D+ = 64 – 67.9
F = Below 64 (Failing)

C. Attendance and Class Participation
Attendance and class participation are an essential expectation of students in this course. Due to the interactive nature of this course, attendance and participation are considered to be absolutely critical to the successful learning in this course. Both will be observed and recorded. Should a student’s grade be marginal, attendance and class participation records may influence the final outcome.

D. Incomplete Grades
The grade of I (incomplete) is a conditional and temporary grade given when students are passing a course but, for reasons beyond their control, have not completed a relatively small part of all of the course requirements. Students are responsible for informing the instructor immediately of the reasons for not being able to meet the course requirements. (Source: University of Houston Graduate and Professional Studies Policy).

E. Late Assignments
Professor will allow for submission of late assignments only if the student has made prior arrangements to do so and for appropriate and compelling reasons. Late assignments will automatically result in the lowering of the otherwise earned grade.

F. Pagers and Cell Phones
Please show respect and consideration of others by taking responsibility for keeping pager and cell phone interruptions to a minimum. Laptop use will be allowed solely for note taking purposes and those students needing to do so must make formal written request to the Professor at the beginning of the course.
VIII. Policy on Academic Dishonesty and Plagiarism

Students are expected to demonstrate and maintain a professional standard of writing in all courses, do one’s own work, give credit for the ideas of others, and provide proper citation of source materials. Any student who plagiarizes any part of a paper or assignment or engages in any form of academic dishonesty will receive an “I” for the class with a recommendation that a grade of F be assigned, subsequent to a College hearing, in accordance with the University policy on academic dishonesty. Other actions may also be recommended and/or taken by the College to suspend or expel a student who engages in academic dishonesty.

All papers and written assignments must be fully and properly referenced using APA style format (or as approved by the instructor), with credit given to the authors whose ideas you have used. If you are using direct quotes from a specific author (or authors), you must set the quote in quotation marks or use an indented quotation form. For all direct quotes, you must include the page number (s) in your text or references. Any time that you use more than four or five consecutive words taken from another author, you must clearly indicate that this is a direct quotation. Please consult the current APA manual for further information.

Academic dishonesty includes using any other person’s work and representing it as your own. This includes (but is not limited to) using graded papers from students who have previously taken this course as the basis for your work. It also includes, but is not limited to submitting the same paper to more than one class. If you have any specific questions about plagiarism or academic dishonesty, please raise these questions in class or make an appointment to see Instructor. This statement is consistent with the University Policy on Academic Dishonesty that can be found in your UH Student Handbook.

IX. Consultation

Students are welcomed and encouraged to consult with the Professor, especially if it pertains to student’s performance in the course. Professor’s office is located in room 204 of the Social Work Building. Professor’s email address is slopez@uh.edu and office phone is 713-743-8104.

Addendum: Whenever possible, and in accordance with 504/ADA guidelines, the University of Houston will attempt to provide reasonable academic accommodations to students who request and require them. For more information and/or assistance, please contact the Center for Students with DisAbilities at 713-743-5400. Instructors may not provide accommodations without supporting Documentation from the UH Center for Students with DisAbilities.
