

THE POWERBROKER
 WHITNEY YOUNG'S FIGHT FOR CIVIL RIGHTS
About the Film

The Powerbroker follows Whitney Young's journey from segregated Kentucky to the national campaign for equal rights. During the turbulent 60s, he was a diplomat between those in power and those striving for change. Young had the difficult tasks of calming the fears of white allies, relieving the doubts of fellow civil rights leaders, and responding to attacks from the militant black power movement.

Free Screening and Panel Discussion

Wednesday, February 20, 2013

Reception at 6:00 p.m.

Film at 6:30 p.m.

Panel at 7:30 p.m.

at Houston Area Urban League

1301 Texas Ave.

Houston, TX 77002

Panelists include

Judson W. Robinson III,

President & CEO of Houston Area Urban League,

Januari Leo,

Branch Chair of the National Association of Social Workers

Houston Chapter

Moderated by Janice Hale-Harris,

President of the Association for Community Broadcasting

Join us each month for free screenings of documentaries from the Emmy Award-winning PBS film series Independent Lens, followed by lively, audience-driven panel discussions.

Cost: FREE

For more information about the film visit www.houstonpbs.org/cinema