April Dates for "Being Herd"

Dear Donna,

Spring is in the air and the Red Dun Ranch herd has welcomed the change in weather! With the beautiful weather, two dates of "Being Herd" are offered in April.

Monday, April 13th, 12:00-2:00pm

Monday, April 27th, 12:00-2:00pm

If you, or someone you know, is having a hard time being heard in their relationships and could benefit from a "horse lesson", please read on or considering forwarding this message.

Being Herd is a unique 2-hour experience where participants get a chance to challenge and grow their communication and leadership skills by partnering with a horse. We all have moments when it seems we just aren't being heard in our relationships; whether it is with a child/teen, partner, or co-worker. Horses are powerful partners in giving honest feedback about ways we effectively, and ineffectively, communicate and approach relationships.

Being Herd is a "grounded" experience, no horse knowledge required. Open to only 6 participants, 18yrs or older. Cost is $100.
