I. Course

A. Catalog Description

Provides skills of policy analysis for assessing the safety net and other U.S. social policies, the impact of policy on disadvantaged individuals and communities, and comparative social welfare policies

B. Purpose

This course is the required advanced social welfare policy course. The course examines alternative models of policy development and applies them to current issues in social welfare. It emphasizes frameworks for policy research and secondary analysis of governmental data. It provides knowledge of social welfare systems and policies, the impact of policy on clients and communities, and the skills of policy analysis as a means to achieving social and economic justice for oppressed groups. A comparative perspective is included.

II. Course Objectives

Upon completion of this course, students will be able to:

1. Delineate skills in initiating, formulating, implementing and evaluating social welfare policies and programs;
2. Demonstrate knowledge of cross-cultural comparative perspectives of social welfare systems and several models of social policy and program analysis;
3. Describe how political and legislative processes influence social welfare policy and program development;
4. Discuss how social work professionals can affect the formulation, implementation and modification of social policies and service delivery systems;
5. Demonstrate an understanding of how social welfare policy formulation and program development may exclude oppressed groups from participation, and how full participation can be insured;
6. Demonstrate an understanding of how social welfare policy analysis may be used to advance or hinder the pursuit of social and economic justice;

7. Demonstrate the successful application of secondary data sources in the analysis of social welfare policies and services; and
8. Demonstrate critical thinking skills in assessing social need, developing potential social welfare policies and program options, and evaluating current social welfare policies.

III. Course Content

This course will include the following topical (content) areas:

1. overview of social policy;
2. governmental social insurance and income maintenance programs;
3. fields of policy practice;
4. alternative welfare programs;
5. the use and application of data sources to analyze policies; and
6. assessing need, developing policies and program options, and evaluating current policies.

IV. Course Structure

Class formats will vary from session to session, depending on session content. Interactive lectures and discussion will be the primary formats; however, in-class exercises, guest speakers, and peer presentations may play a role in class instruction. Students are expected to complete all readings as assigned, as they are a major source of learning in this course.

The professor reserves the right to alter readings, course topics, and assignments as needed to better accommodate learning goals and time constraints.

V. Textbooks

Readings are required as noted in the syllabus, and as assigned during the course of the semester. Readings will be available on Blackboard or distributed by the professor.

Please note that readings have been purposefully selected to strengthen students' critical thinking and encourage healthy classroom debate; it is not expected that students (or the professor) will agree with all perspectives presented.

To stay abreast of current issues, students should read at least one daily newspaper, reflecting diverse political viewpoints, such as: The Houston Chronicle, The Texas Tribune, The Texas Observer, The Washington Post, The New York Times, and The Wall Street Journal; or international sources, such as BBC News. Students are encouraged to bring articles to class that complement our class discussions or post them to Blackboard for online discussion.

VI. Course Requirements

All assignments are due by the dates specified above. All assignments due on class meeting days are due before the start of the class session that day. Late submissions will be accepted for all assignments except Pop Essay quizzes; however, the grade value will be reduced by 10% for each day late, including turning in an assignment after the time deadline on the day it is due. A Pop Essay quiz missed due to absence or lateness cannot be made up at a later date or time. The professor reserves the right to require any student to consult the Writing Center regarding assignments in this course.

VII. Evaluation and Grading

The following standard grading scale has been adopted for all courses taught in the college.

A =	96-100% of the points	C+ =	76-79.9%
A- =	92-95.9%	C =	72-75.9%
B+=	88-91.9%	C- =	68-71.9%
B =	84-87.9%	D =	64-67.9%
B- =	80-83.9%	F =	Below 64%

VIII. Policy on grades of I (Incomplete):

The grade of "I" (Incomplete) is a conditional and temporary grade given when students are either (a) passing a course or (b) still have a reasonable chance of passing in the judgment of the instructor but, for non-academic reasons beyond their control have not completed a relatively small part of all requirements. Students are responsible for informing the instructor immediately of the reasons for not submitting an assignment on time or not taking an examination. Students must contact the instructor of the course in which they receive an "I" grade to make arrangements to complete the course requirements. Students should be instructed not to re-register for the same course in a following semester in order to complete the incomplete requirements.

The grade of "I" must be changed by fulfillment of course requirements within one year of the date awarded or it will be changed automatically to an "F" (or to a "U" [Unsatisfactory] in S/U graded courses). The instructor may require a time period of less than one year to fulfill course requirements, and the grade may be changed by the instructor at any time to reflect work completed in the course. The grade of "I" may not be changed to a grade of W.

IX. Policy on academic dishonesty and plagiarism

Students are expected to demonstrate and maintain a professional standard of writing in all courses, do one's own work, give credit for the ideas of others, and provide proper citation of source materials. Any student who plagiarizes any part of a paper or assignment or engages in any form of academic dishonesty will receive an "I" for the class with a recommendation that a grade of F be assigned, subsequent to a College hearing, in accordance with the University policy on academic dishonesty. Other actions may also be recommended and/or taken by the College to suspend or expel a student who engages in academic dishonesty.

All presentations, papers and written assignments must be fully and properly referenced using APA style format (or as approved by the instructor), with credit given to the authors whose ideas you have used. If you are using direct quotes from a specific author (or authors), you must set the quote in quotation marks or use an indented quotation form. For all direct quotes, you must include the page number(s) in your text or references. Any time that you use more than four or five consecutive words taken from another author, you must clearly indicate that this is a direct quotation. Please consult the current APA manual for further information.

Academic dishonesty includes using any other person's work and representing it as your own. This includes (but is not limited to) using graded papers from students who have previously taken this course as the basis for your work. It also includes, but is not limited to submitting the same paper to more than one class. It also includes securing another person to complete any required activities, assignments, quizzes, papers, or exams in an online course, or in any on-line environment. If you have any specific questions about plagiarism or academic dishonesty, please raise these questions in class or make an appointment to see the instructor. This statement is consistent with the University Policy on Academic Dishonesty that can be found in your UH Student Handbook.

XI. Bibliography

Lists current references for students who are interested in pursuing additional information on course content.

XII. Americans with Disabilities Statement

Whenever possible, and in accordance with 504/ADA guidelines, the University of Houston will attempt to provide reasonable academic accommodations to students who request and require them. Please call 713-743-5400 for more assistance. Instructors may not provide accommodations without supporting documentation from the UH Center for Students with Disabilities.

XIII. Addenda

Consultation. Scheduled office hours are indicated on page 1 of this syllabus. Other times may be arranged by appointment – please contact me by email to schedule alternative appointment times. I encourage students to meet with me to discuss assignment topics, questions related to course content, or other topics that arise as a result of course content, assignments, and discussions.

Course expectations. Regular, on-time attendance is expected; absences will be reflected in your class participation grade. If you cannot attend class, you are expected to inform me in advance. If you miss class, it is your responsibility to contact fellow students to obtain missed information.

Blackboard. The course information and readings are posted on this course's Blackboard site. Please use Blackboard to submit assignments and follow course announcements. Students are encouraged to post and discuss links or articles relevant to course content in order to strengthen the course learning environment.

Electronic Devices. You are expected to conduct yourself as a professional in this class. Distractions should be kept to a minimum; cell phones should be turned off before class; no laptops should be utilized during class sessions, except as permitted by the professor.

Course Assignments

The final grade for this course will be based on the following assignments:

1) Class Participation

Participation and Preparedness – 10 points.

Active class participation is expected, and is necessary for optimal student learning. We learn from each other; thus, students are expected to come prepared to discuss the weekly readings, as well as broader themes and/or current events that arise around each session's topic. Debate and discussion of different perspectives is expected; however, students are expected to demonstrate respectful conduct towards one another.

Your participation will be assessed using the following criteria:

- supporting flow of discussion (sharing appropriate and relevant content, reading and integrating weekly readings, integrating relevant field experiences, and furthering classroom discussion of session topics);
- active listening; and
- being respectful in comments and action (including regular attendance and arriving on time).
- IF YOU ARE CONSTANTLY ON YOUR PHONE OR COMPUTER AND NOT ENGAGING IN THE CONVERSATION, IT WILL BE NOTED!

2) In-class Assignments

Pop Essay Quizzes – 10 points.

At times throughout the semester, the instructor will provide a prompt to the class based on that week's readings. Students will have approximately 10 minutes in class to write down your thoughts in response to the prompt, and then will turn your response in to the instructor. The assignment will be assessed based on students' comprehension and application of key concepts from the week's readings. If the Pop Essay Quiz is missed due to absence or lateness, it cannot be made up at a later date or time.

3) Written Assignments

All written assignments (the Problem Identification and the Critical Analyses) will focus on the same problem and policy, selected by the student. Assignments will be graded based on:

1. Adherence to the required elements of the assignment.
2. Quality of analysis and the depth of understanding of the topic.
3. Logical and well-organized presentation of your arguments, and conclusions that are clearly drawn from your arguments.
4. Appropriate use of references, using sources beyond those provided by the instructor. It is your responsibility to ensure all sources you cite are credible.

5. Appropriate grammar and spelling, and evidence the assignment has been proofread.

Students are expected to follow the 6th edition of the APA Publication Manual, use 12 pt. font and 1" margins, and indicate page numbers. Upload all written assignments to the course Blackboard site by the specified dates and times.

Critical analyses– 30 points (15 for the problem and 15 for the analysis)

1) Social problem identification. Each student is expected to identify a social problem of interest or concern to you based on your social work practice experience. This problem will serve as the basis for all written assignments throughout the semester. In approximately 4 double-spaced pages, your paper must:

- a) provide a clear definition of the problem as you see it,
- b) objectively discuss the scope and magnitude of the problem (e.g., how extensive is the problem, how many people are affected, which demographic groups)
- c) discuss what causes this issue/problem to exist in an objective manner,
- d) objectively describe the specific positive and negative effects of this problem for individuals, families, groups, and society,
- e) explain why this problem is of interest to you based on your practice experience, and why you believe it is worthy of policy attention,
- f) discuss 1-2 examples of “symbols” (with references) commonly used by members of the public, the media, or politicians in discussing their own definition of this problem,
- g) identify a policy addressing this problem that you think you would like to study over the course of the semester.

This paper must be well-referenced, using appropriate resources to support your arguments.

I encourage anyone who is struggling to narrow down or define your problem to schedule a meeting with me, before completing your Social Problem Identification assignment.**

(DUE: 9/14, by 6:00 p.m.)

2) Comparative policy analysis. If you are studying a state or local policy, identify a policy from another state or locality which addresses the same problem differently. If you are studying a national policy, identify a policy from a different country that addresses the same problem.

Part One and Two (DUE: 11/2, by 6:00 p.m.)

- a) Fill out Part One of the table provided on Blackboard to compare the context and goals for each policy. The table can be completed using bullet points. The content of the table must be written in your own words.
- b) A reference list with resources for the policy of interest in both states/countries must be attached.
- c) Fill out Part Two of the table provided on Blackboard describing key elements of both policies. The table can be completed using bullet points. The content of the table must be written in your own words.

A minimum of 4-5 credible sources must be used in the Comparative Policy Analysis. All sources of information both in the table and in the narrative must be cited.

Identify your comparison policy as early as possible – if you are struggling to identify a comparison policy, please schedule a meeting with me or with Irene Ke, the Social Work Librarian.

Group Mock Legislative Visit and Policy Analysis Brief – 25 points.

Students in groups of 4-5 will be assigned one policy to and produce a one-page policy analysis brief. The brief will need to be modified in order to communicate effectively about your policy to a policymaker.

As the name suggests, policy briefs are short documents, approximately 2-3 single-spaced pages, focused on providing the most essential information about a policy and recommendations for policy change. Briefs provide important information on-demand for policy makers who are often too busy to read detailed lengthy documents. However, the best policy briefs entice readers to want to find out more. Tips for the assignment will be provided in class.

The brief must include the following elements:

- a) specification of the problem the policy seeks to address and a brief summary of its scope and magnitude,
- b) description of the policy and its key elements,
- c) analysis of at least 2 strengths and 2 weaknesses of the policy, following a policy analysis framework of your choosing,
- d) identification and justification of at least 2 specific, actionable recommendations that a policymaker could work to implement into law that would improve the policy.

Relevant data and citations must be used to support your major points throughout the brief.

Students will then choose one person to act as the legislator, and the rest will act as the advocates. You will have 10 minutes to effectively communicate your position to the legislator, who will ask the appropriate probing questions. Please dress professionally!

(DUE 10/5)

3) Presentation

Policy Advocacy Project and Presentation – 20 points.

Students will complete this assignment in the same group as the previous assignment. Students will engage in at least 2 forms of political action outside of GCSW to advocate for policy change to promote social justice. These actions may be in the form of phone calls, letter-writing, campaign volunteering (phone calls, door-to-door canvassing, etc.), testimony presentation, rally attendance, meeting with a legislator, etc.

Students are strongly encouraged to meet with the professor to receive feedback prior to beginning the project.

Students will make 10-15 minute class presentations on the policy advocacy effort at the end of the semester. Presentations will be assessed both on the quality of the advocacy project and on the strength of the students' presentation of each of the following elements:

- a) the purpose of your advocacy effort,
- b) a clear description of each of the specific policy advocacy activities you engaged in and justification for why you chose these specific forms of advocacy action,
- c) a description of the target group for your advocacy, and other key participants in the effort,
- d) an analysis of the degree to which you feel your efforts were effective and why,
- e) knowing what you know now, an assessment of how you might have approached your advocacy differently to achieve better advocacy outcomes, and
- f) an assessment of whether and how this experience impacted your feelings about engaging in policy advocacy.

(DUE: 11/23 and 30)

4) Current Event Policy Issues – 5 points

The first segment of most class sessions will be devoted to discussion of current policy issues and events. Students will be graded on:

- a) bringing a newspaper or newsmagazine article or an audio or video clip (3 minutes or less in length only) relevant to current policy issues and events,
- b) providing your perspective on how the current policy issue may impact direct practice,
- c) linking the current policy issue to course content, and

- d) leading class discussion of the policy issue in the article/clip.
- e) Dress professionally!

Each presentation and discussion will be limited to 10 minutes.

A signup sheet for dates will be passed around during the beginning of class. If you share an article, please bring enough copies of the article for everyone in the class.
