JOB OPPORTUNITY POSTING

Job Title: Director, School of Social Work

Employer/Agency: University of Central Florida

Job Description: The University of Central Florida (UCF), a public multi-campus research university with "very high research activity" status (RU/VH), invites applications for the position of director of the School of Social Work in the College of Health and Public Affairs. The university seeks a visionary, innovative and energetic leader to build on the existing strengths of the school in teaching, research and service. With its 25 full-time faculty and 650 students, BSW and MSW degrees and a Social Work track in the Ph.D. in Public Affairs program, the school focuses its efforts on community-based clinical practice.

UCF, with the second largest student enrollment in the nation, offers unique opportunities for collaborative research within and across disciplines. Innovative partnerships are in place with community agencies, health care facilities, public schools, business industries, government agencies, UCF College of Medicine, hospitals and biomedical research institutes. UCF's commitment to excellence provides support for both instructional and research efforts, including advanced instructional technology and assistance, nationally recognized web-based course development assistance, state-of-the-art instrumentation, simulation training, and grant support specialists.

Please also visit the following link for more information about the University of Central Florida and living in Orlando, Florida: http://www.ucf.edu/about_ucf.

Review of applications will begin in October 2012, and will continue until the position is filled.

UCF is an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer. Women, minorities, and individuals with disabilities are strongly encouraged to apply. As an agency of the state of Florida, UCF makes all application materials, including transcripts used in final screening, available to the public upon request.

Qualifications: The successful candidate must possess an MSW from a CSWE-accredited School of Social Work, an earned doctorate in Social Work or a related field from an accredited institution, and an outstanding record of teaching, scholarly and funded grant achievements commensurate with a tenured faculty appointment at the rank of associate or full professor. The candidate must also possess effective communication skills, at least 3 years administrative and budgetary experience, and the ability to collaborate with internal and external stakeholders to sustain and expand upon the school's community and research partnerships and fundraising efforts.
