JOB OPPORTUNITY POSTING

Job Title: Director, Graduate School of Social Work

Employer/Agency: University of New England

Job Description: The University of New England School of Social Work faculty is seeking an individual who can inspire faculty with dynamic leadership, vision and creativity to serve as the Director of our school. The ideal individual will have collaborative skills needed to guide the School through its ongoing expansion, which includes a robust and growing fully online MSW option, a new accelerated on-campus MSW option, and the possible development of doctoral education. We are seeking a director who has consistently demonstrated a commitment to the School's vision of sustainable, equitable, diverse communities committed to universal human rights and social and economic justice, and who is prepared to help the School realize its vision.

The School of Social Work is part of the interprofessional Westbrook College of Health Professions that includes academic programs in applied exercise science, athletic training, dental hygiene, nurse anesthesia, nursing, occupational therapy, physical therapy, and physician assistant. The University of New England, an acknowledged leader in health sciences and liberal arts education, also includes Colleges of Osteopathic Medicine, Pharmacy, Arts and Sciences and a College of Dental Medicine in development. Visit www.une.edu/wchp/socialwork to learn more about our school.

Review of applicants will begin immediately, and will continue until the position is filled. This position is a 12-month appointment with rank and salary commensurate with experience and credentials. The University of New England is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer and strongly encourages minority candidacies.

Qualifications: This position requires an MSW with post master's practice experience and a doctorate in social work or a related field. Candidates must have a combination of academic experience including teaching, service and scholarship to be eligible for appointment at the rank of associate professor or above. Candidates with a track record of progressive supervision and administration within an academic setting are encouraged to apply. Applicants are encouraged to discuss their qualifications as well as their philosophy of leadership and program development in their application materials.
