Full-Time, Tenure-Track Faculty Position

August 2014

The Department of Sociology, Social work and Criminal Justice at Castleton State College seeks applications for a tenure-track position in Social Work beginning August 2014. The Social Work Program is a well-established growing BSW program. Applicants must have a Masters in Social Work and DSW or PhD in Social Work and evidence of commitment to undergraduate education. The successful candidate may teach courses including, but not limited to a one course-equivalent on-site field placement instruction for several seniors, Introduction to Human Services, and two other established courses per semester. Castleton places a special value on the teaching role of its faculty, and candidates for this position will be evaluated on the basis of their potential to be outstanding teachers. We also invite applications from candidates actively engaged in scholarly work and interested in promoting undergraduate research. Strong interpersonal skills and the ability to work effectively with colleagues are also essential. Salary is dependent on qualifications and experience, and is determined through a point system that is part of Vermont State Colleges' collective bargaining agreement.

Castleton is a growing and vibrant liberal arts college of about 2,000 undergraduates located in the beautiful lakes region of western Vermont near Rutland and Killington Mt. Review of applications will begin January 22, 2014 and continue until the position is filled. To apply, please send (hard copies only, no electronic documents please) CV, three letters of recommendation, and a statement of teaching interests) to:
