

IDAHO STATE UNIVERSITY

ASSISTANT PROFESSOR

The Idaho State University Department of Sociology, Social Work, and Criminal Justice is taking applications for an open position in Social Work at the Assistant Professor level. We are seeking applicants with a background and specialization related to families, community, health, and diversity. Successful candidates are expected to have a well-developed research program and are expected to teach undergraduate generalist social work courses as well as courses related to their area of expertise. Candidates must have a PhD at the onset of duties (August 2012).

Pocatello, with a population of about 50,000, is a high desert and mountainous area in the Rocky Mountains in close proximity to Yellowstone National Park, the Grand Tetons, and the Frank Church Wildness. Outdoor activities and recreation are readily available year round.

The Department of Sociology, Social Work, and Criminal Justice is a socially diverse department and welcomes applications from persons of all backgrounds.

For a complete job description, requirements, and application instructions visit us at https://isujobs.net/applicants/jsp/shared/search/SearchResults_css.jsp

Position is open until filled. Questions? Contact Human Resources, Phone (208) 282-2517, Email: hr@isu.edu.