JOB OPPORTUNITY POSTING

Job Title: Clinical Assistant Professor (Non-tenure track)

Employer/Agency: Boston University School of Social Work

Job Description: The Boston University School of Social Work invites applications for one non-tenure track Clinical Assistant Professor position. We seek candidates with teaching skills and scholarly expertise in either clinical or Macro/Community Practice.

Located in an unusually rich academic community, Boston offers excellent opportunities for interdisciplinary collaboration with universities, community organizations, health and mental health settings. Distinguished by its urban mission and focus on social and economic justice, oppression and diversity, the School has a strong commitment to educating masters and doctoral social workers who will become leaders in a multicultural environment. Special areas of expertise within the school include community organizing, planning and management, health and mental health, aging, children and youth, trauma and families, substance abuse, and public health social work. The School of Social Work and Boston University foster an interdisciplinary collegial environment and seek to attract and retain a culturally and academically diverse faculty of the highest caliber who are skilled in teaching, research, application and integration of knowledge.

Qualifications: Candidates for the position in the Clinical Practice Department should have at least five years of full-time clinical practice experience (or the equivalent) with adults, families and/or children. Candidates for the position in the Macro Practice Department should have at least five years of full-time practice experience (or the equivalent) with community and organizations. Applicants must have an MSW or equivalent; a PhD or equivalent degree is desirable. Individuals must show evidence of strong teaching skills, clinical/community practice and service, and scholarly interests in practice, pedagogy and/or substantive problems and populations.
