

GIs to Get Stop-Loss Special Pay

November 23, 2009

Army News Service

An estimated 120,000 Soldiers and veterans are now eligible for retroactive Stop-Loss Special Pay.

The Department of Defense announced on Oct. 21 that with the recent congressional authorization, Soldiers who were individually stop-lossed and on active duty between Sept. 11, 2001, and Sept. 30, 2008, now can claim a retroactive special pay of $500 for each month they served past their end-of-service date. This includes Reserve and National Guard Soldiers on active duty during this period.

- Apply by Oct. 21, 2010.